Traveller caravans move on to estate

TRAVELLERS have moved on to a Black Country industrial estate.

Around 10 caravans are on Excelsior Industrial Estate, near Halesowen.

Police and Dudley Council officers are monitoring the situation to ensure no damage is being caused.

Site owners Langtree said they were monitoring the site, off Cakemore Road, Blackheath. They added they were taking legal advice about the travellers in a bid to force them off the land.

Caravans, motorhomes and other vans and cars can be seen from the roadside. They arrived on the site on Sunday.

Halesowen North Councillor Jeff Hill was contacted by residents about the travellers.

He said: "Legally it is the responsibility of land owners to get the travellers to move and Langtree are doing everything they can to get the group off their land as quickly as they can."

"I have asked council officers to make sure they check nearby council owned open spaces to ensure they are secure, and will not be the group's next destination."

A spokesperson for Langtree Group said: "We are consulting with our legal advisers and working closely with Dudley Council and West Midlands Police to seek a swift resolution."

SVR set for anniversary

SEVERN Valley Railway is on track to celebrate its 150th anniversary.

The railway will hold events over the weekend of May 19 and 20 and will mark the opening of the line, originally between Worcester and Shrewsbury.

A re-enactment of the line's opening will be staged featuring a royal appearance by Queen Victoria, who will call in at all of the stations to meet visitors. There will also be locomotive displays.

TOWN CENTRE BUS LANES FACING AXE

by Andrew Turton

BUS LANES around Halesowen town centre will be axed under plans backed by a transport chief to cut congestion. Residents and councillors have been calling for three lanes near the town's bus station and on a busy dual carriageway to be shut.

Thousands of dementia cases missed

MORE than 2,300 dementia sufferers in Dudley have not yet been diagnosed with the disease.

Of an estimated 3,852 people with dementia in the borough, just 1,517 have been identified by doctors, latest figures show. It means 2,335 sufferers – are receiving no treatment. Chiefs have invested in new services for sufferers.

Andrew Hindle, NHS Dudley's strategic lead for older people and long term conditions, said: "We have commissioned an integrated dementia pathway. The pathway is an innovative and co-ordinated approach."

"The pathway is already delivering on early diagnosis and providing ongoing support including access to dementia advisors and dementia gateway centres."

"There will also be a Dudley Dementia Strategy later this year that will set out the vision and commissioning intentions to deliver on quality dementia care services," he added.

Figures show the number diagnosed with dementia in the West Midlands rose by 2,100 over the last year from 25,600 to 27,700.

But it is thought there are 41,000 people in the region living with the condition.

In Sandwell there has been a 3.7 per cent rise in the number of people being diagnosed, while there was a two per cent increase in cases, and 1.9 per cent rise in Dudley.

They claim figures show two of the lanes were not reducing bus journey times for passengers against normal road conditions, instead causing traffic jams during peak times with drivers forced to queue in single file.

The lanes earmarked for closure are in Bromsgrove Road between Vine Lane and the Mucklow Hill island and the west-bound and east-bound routes in Queensway between the Hagley Road island and Vine Lane.

Members of Halesowen Area committee voted for proposals to axe the lanes last month. Their recommendations were sent to Dudley Council's transport boss, Councillor Patrick Harley, and West Midlands Transport Authority Centre.

Councillor Harley said the proposals have his support and officers would be having discussions with Centro.

Proposals

"These Halesowen bus lanes are among a number of lanes that we are looking to review. We will consult with Centro on the proposals."

Area committee member, Councillor Ken Turner, said the lanes around the bus station were only meant to be temporary.

"They were only there temporarily anyway while the bus station was built four years ago so the time is right to get them out of the way as soon as possible," he said.

"It will be better for Halesowen because at the moment they are just causing congestion and difficulties."

Earlier this month Councillor Harley revealed lanes outside Dudley Zoo and the Black Country Living Museum were also being reviewed. The project is being considered in light of a major £10 million regeneration plan to create a tourism hotspot involving the zoo, the museum and Dudley Canal Tunnels. Councillor Harley says the authority is looking at ways to improve traffic ahead of the opening of the new £6 million Dudley Archives building.

Rock on for Dudley Zoo's 75th

Dave Healy, of Brierley Hill, with the sticks of Dudley Zoo rock at Teddy Gray's

A NEW rock of ages – the sweet variety – has rolled off the production line at a confectionery company to celebrate Dudley Zoo's 75th anniversary.

The attraction celebrates its big birthday on May 6 and Edward Gray's of Dudley, known locally as Teddy Gray's, has made a special orange rock. Teddy Gray's, which was founded in 1826, has been making rock for the zoo since it opened in 1937. It is normally pink. Teddy Gray, aged 76, who is joint managing director with his sister,

Betty, said: "We're making 1,000 sticks this time and it will be special because it's for the zoo's 75th anniversary."

They are the fifth generation of the family to run the company. Teddy Gray's sticks of rock, produced in its factory in North Street, were sold from a kiosk, where visitors could also buy ice cream, at the zoo each summer until 2005.

Zoo spokeswoman Jill Hitchman said: "It was always a legend to go to Dudley Zoo and have a stick of rock."

300 apply for just 15 training vacancies

HUNDREDS of people are battling it out for just 15 places on a training programme at Russells Hall Hospital.

Bosses have been inundated with 300 applications for the scheme, which aims to fill vacant positions for healthcare support workers.

The 15 successful applicants will work in different departments and could be offered a permanent contract.

Bosses at the Dudley Group NHS Foundation Trust are now drawing up a short-list of applicants to interview.

Director of nursing Denise McMahon said: "We have been overwhelmed with inquiries for the programme and pleasantly surprised by its popularity, and by the quality of the people applying for a place."

"It has proved to be a very successful way of recruiting quality support workers who have the potential to progress to a nursing degree and it is now part of the trust's annual workforce plan."

The training scheme was launched in November 2010. Since then, more than 70 have been given contracts.

"We introduced the programme to address the problem of recruiting skilled clinical support workers into the trust," said professional development leader, Maggie Lewis.

Rugby star honour plan

A STATUE or plaque could be erected in Dudley to honour rugby legend Cliff Watson.

The 72-year-old started his career in the borough before playing for rugby league side St Helens and captaining Great Britain.

Plans are now being drawn up for a statue and a display at Dudley Museum and Art Gallery.

Dudley Council has shown an interest in celebrating Mr Watson's achievements.

Truth demanded on Subway shop job

AN ADVERT for a "sandwich artist apprentice" to work at a national snack shop chain in the Black Country – for just £2.60 an hour – has left a bad taste in a local MP's mouth.

Dudley MP Ian Austin is demanding an investigation by Work and Pensions Secretary Iain Duncan Smith into whether the job, at a Subway branch in Coseley, is a "genuine apprenticeship" – or a way of paying young staff below the minimum wage.

The training company that placed the advert and the Subway shop on Birmingham New Road, Coseley, pledged it was a genuine apprenticeship, fulfilling the requirements for trainees employed at the lower minimum rate of pay.

Job Centre Plus displayed the advert, which says the position is for a level 2 apprenticeship, meaning the successful applicant can be paid a national minimum wage of £2.60.

The job, which would involve a 30-hour shift pattern to cover store hours, would be to learn the "art of great sandwich making".

But Mr Austin said: "The Government's 'specification of apprenticeship standards' states that apprentices at level 2 must spend at least 30 per cent of their time on off-the-job training – typically at a further education college – but the advert does not say whether any off the job training is included."

Mr Austin has now asked Iain Duncan Smith to investigate.

"I've asked the National Apprenticeship Service to look into the apprenticeships Subway are offering," he said. The advert was placed by Lifetime Training, of Bristol, where marketing manager Simon Harper said: "The apprenticeships we run on behalf of Subway franchisees are absolutely genuine."

Robert wins battle to get £50,000 for legs

A MAN who lost half his legs and his hands through meningitis has won his battle for funding for a £50,000 pair of prosthetic legs.

Robert Parsons, aged 29, had recently managed to start walking for the first time since his illness. But he said his current legs were unstable. He had fallen over and injured himself and applied for new legs with special knee joints to help him walk.

Alleyways closed off to combat hooligans

GATES are being fitted at alleyways in Dudley which have been troubled by yobs and anti-behaviour.

The first set of metal railings have now been erected.

They have been fitted at the two entrances to the alleyway off Kilburn Drive to Holbeache Lane, in Kingswinford.

Similar gates will close off alleyways leading between Iris Close to Bunns Lane, in Kates Hill, and from Park Road to Maughan Street, in Quarry Bank, in the coming weeks.

The alleyways have been shut following pleas from actions from residents.

They claimed gangs of youths had been abusive, were drinking alcohol and had reported burglaries and criminal damage to police over the past 12 months.

Following the complaints, Dudley Council has agreed to authorise a three year gating order to close off the alleyways in a bid to reduce criminality.

Councillor Patrick Harley, said: "I'm glad we have been able to close these alleyways off following the complaints to show that we are trying to proactively tackle the problem."

But his request was turned down by NHS Dudley as he was not seen as an "exceptional case".

But the case, which was highlighted in the local press, has since been reconsidered and the decision reversed.

Mr Parsons said: "I'm delighted and I'm so grateful for all the support I received – people were coming up to me and telling me to keep going."

"I really think it has helped to raise the issue."

"These new legs are so much better – they actually feel like real legs when I'm walking about."

Poisoning

Mr Parsons, of Shenstone Avenue, Norton, Stourbridge, was just 19 and previously healthy when he had the amputations after contracting blood poisoning through a complication of meningitis.

Thousands were raised in just weeks from donations by the public – and that has been used in recent years to kit out Mr Parsons's home and buy him an adapted car.

In the last 11 years he has battled to improve his mobility.

But he struggled to walk up kerbs and on uneven surfaces, which has left him "embarrassed" when he has fallen over in public.

NHS Dudley spokeswoman Lindsey Harding said: "At the time this case was first considered the PCT did not have all of the supporting evidence to demonstrate exceptionality for Mr Parsons."

Honour roll for hospital workers

A ROLL of honour has been launched by a town crier – heralding exceptional work by hospital staff who have won praise from their patients.

Dudley Group NHS Foundation Trust has created the roll to honour staff who have gone beyond the call of duty. The first six individuals and teams of staff have been recorded.

They were given an extra special honour after their names were announced loudly when Sandwell Town Crier Adrian Holmes rang his bell in the entrance to Dudley's Russells Hall Hospital.

The scroll, chosen from staff identified in some of the hundreds of compliments and "thank you" letters received by the hospital every year, will be updated regularly.

Chief Executive Paula Clark said those on it were a "fabulous bunch".

Among them was Liz Hill, ward clerk on B2 at the hospital, who often literally goes an extra mile by cycling to return possessions left behind by patients after they have visited the hospital.

bill over
fire fight

THE LEGAL battle to save doomed Halesowen fire station from the axe has cost taxpayers about £10,000.

West Midlands Fire Authority chairman Councillor John Edwards says he is "annoyed" they have to foot the bill.

He said the service faced millions of pounds of funding cutbacks due to reduced government payments.

Campaigners withdrew their bid for a judicial review into proposals to shut Halesowen fire station after failing to find the necessary funding to take their application to the High Court.

Councillor Edwards said: "It has cost us almost £10,000 in legal bills and officers' time that was unnecessary in my view."

"It has left me feeling very annoyed that taxpayers' money has been wasted in this way."

Halsowen & Rowley Regis MP James Morris, who backed the campaign, said: "I am surprised at the figures quoted on the legal costs incurred by the West Midlands Fire Service."

"They are obviously retaining very expensive lawyers. The group has sought all along to oppose the plans."

Mother's animal ban downgraded after plea

A MOTHER-OF-FIVE will be allowed to keep any animal except for rabbits after a court downgraded a total ban on appeal.

Sara Davis was originally banned from keeping any pet for 10 years after rabbits in her care were found in "filthy hutches" and she failed to get them proper treatment for ear mites.

But at an appeal before Wolverhampton Crown Court a judge ruled there was no evidence to suggest any other animal in her care had suffered. The court was told last week she also had two dogs, three adult cats and a kitten. Davis, aged 31, of Bent Street, Brierley Hill, was told the 10-year ban on her keeping rabbits would be upheld and she would not be able to appeal for five years. But she will now be permitted to keep her other animals, though the court warned she would remain "under close scrutiny" by the RSPCA.

The court heard five rabbits had been seized from her old home in Meadow Walk, Cradley Heath, after a visit by an RSPCA inspector last May.

Mrs Gaynor Sutton, on behalf of the RSPCA, said the animals had been kept in filthy cages with little food and water.

"Two of them were found to have severe encrustations around their ears. The cause of this was found to be mites," she said. "They were taken to an independent vet who said it was the worst case he had seen in 15 years." She said Davis had pleaded guilty to two charges of causing unnecessary suffering and a further two of not taking reasonable steps to ensure the rabbits were kept in a hygienic environment.

Dudley Magistrates Court had imposed the total ban on keeping animals alongside ordering her to carry out 50 hours community service and pay costs.

But Mrs Sutton said cats found at the house had been in "reasonable condition" and the dogs had not been at the property at the time to check. Mr Nigel Stelling, appearing for Davis, said at the time his client had been moving house and she admitted care of the rabbits had slipped.

"It was a time of crisis for the family. They had been forced to find new accommodation due to a flood at the property," he said. "She sees the logic of the ban on keeping rabbits but the other animals were being cared for. She was returning to the house every day."

Judge Robin Onions said: "It would appear the magistrates decided on the total ban on the grounds that if one particular kind of animal has not been properly cared for there is more risk to others."

Shop's eggs-treme move to bring in ban is no yolk

A SHOP in the Dudley has imposed a ban on selling eggs to under-18s to help crack down on anti-social behaviour.

Staff at the Spar store, Lawnswood Road, Wordsley, introduced the strict ban after eggs sold to younger

by Lee Watton

teenagers were thrown at a nearby house. Bosses said the rule, normally reserved for the sale of alcohol and cigarettes, had been supported by the local community.

Signs have now been put up at tills in the shop telling customers of the policy.

They read: "Due to recent activities in the local area we are unable to sell eggs to anyone under 18 years of age. Sorry for any inconvenience."

Discretion

Staff at the store said the scheme had been backed by local policing teams who even helped provide some of the signs.

Other Spar stores in the area said they had not introduced a ban but the sale of any item was left up to the discretion of shop staff.

Lawnswood Road store manager Sue Williams said they took action after problems.

She said: "We decided to take the step after there was an incident where eggs were sold to 16-year-olds.

"Around 30 minutes later we were visited by the police who said the eggs had been thrown at a house."

"Since then we have followed this policy."

"It has sparked conversation among customers when they first see the signs saying people under-18 can't buy eggs," she added.

"Many of them just can't believe that we have had to put this policy in place but it was necessary."

"Once we explained to them the reason they understood why we had to do it and the scheme has been well-received."

Mrs Williams said: "It was a surprise when the police first came into the shop and told us what the eggs had been used for."

"We certainly did not want anything to like that happen again and so the decision was taken to put the rule in place."

Student's game success

A COMPUTER software student has celebrated success as his team won a contest to design their own game.

Adam Sherratt, aged 22, from Brierley Hill, was part of the team called Commando Kiwi which took part in the national competition held at the Gadget Show Live event in Birmingham. They were one of four teams formed after signing up to courses with tuition organisation Train2Game. The team's game, Last Chapters, is based on the gamebook Warlock on Firetop Mountain.

Paul Harborne of Sedgley, left, and Tim Jordan of Kingswinford with the replica Ghostbusters car which has been a labour of love for two and half years

go ghost
busting

THERE is something strange in the neighbourhood and it's taken hundreds of hours of work over two and a half years.

However, now mechanic Tim Jordan and car enthusiast Paul Harborne have unveiled the fruits of their labour, a replica of the famous car from the hit film Ghostbusters.

The 1960 Cadillac Miller-Meteor has been transformed into a replica of Ecto-1a complete with mock ghost-capturing equipment.

The car, will be hired out for special occasions.

Mr Jordan said: "It looks fantastic. But it's not a job for the faint-hearted."

"It has not been an easy job by any stretch of the imagination. But to see the car finished and looking so good has made it more than worth it," added the 42-year-old.

The end of the project is also a poignant moment for the mechanic as it is the last car to be fixed up at his garage, Tricklicks, off Stallings Lane, Kingswinford.

He will now concentrate on the new business of renting out the eye-catching car.

Father-of-five Mr Harborne, 48, said: "The reaction we've had from people who have seen the car so far has been fantastic."

Armed robbers steal cash box from guard

A SECURITY van driver was threatened with an axe during a robbery outside a Dudley post office. Two men pounced on the driver as he delivered cash to Russells Hall Road Post Office and Convenience Store.

Jewellers repaired

REPAIRS have been carried out on a listed Black Country jewellery shop after thieves broke in and stole more than 40 watches and a pair of earrings.

Raiders have struck at John Hollins Jewellers in Dudley for the second time in a month. They pulled away a protective shutter, before smashing one of the curved windows.

But the raiders were unable to get through so targeted smaller bubble glass panels in the door instead.

Store owner John Griffiths said they had taken 38 Timex watches and seven mid-range Rolex watches.

They had also smashed one of the glass counters and took a pair of earrings. The total amount of the haul is estimated at around £1,000.

But Mr Griffiths, who is celebrating 50 years since taking over the store, said cost of repairing the damage was a great deal more.

The robbers were wearing white crash helmets. One of the raiders grabbed a cash box from the victim and they both escaped on a scramble bike in the direction of Milking Bank park.

The robbery happened in full view of shocked residents as they queued at a nearby bus stop at around 9.10am yesterday.

Staff at the shop said the driver had already delivered one box of cash to the shop and had returned to the van to collect a second one when he was threatened by the men.

It is not known how much cash was stolen in the raid but sub-postmaster Joe Jawandha said he believed it was a "substantial" amount.

Two staff were in the post office and convenience store at the time of the robbery and were left shaken by the attack, Mr Jawandha said.

The business was closed for the rest of the day.

West Midlands Police spokeswoman Deb Edmonds said the scramble bike was seen travelling through the Milking Bank estate and was likely to have been seen by many people. Witnesses can contact police on 101.

Super slimmers Dean Worrall and Vikki Billingham who inspired Dean's effort

SUPER slimmer Dean Worrall has shed more than 15 stone bagging an accolade for his dramatic weight loss.

At 33st and unable to climb ladders or scaffolding towers, the electrician from Stourbridge was made redundant. When he had to ask for a different chair at an interview because he couldn't fit into the one provided he decided it was time to shed the pounds.

The 35-year-old has now lost a staggering 15st 5lb and got his old job back. He said: "It's really difficult to get a job when you're very overweight. I used to wonder who would hire a 33st electrician." But his life changed when he joined the Brierley Hill branch of Slimming World and ate healthier meals.

His weight loss saw him reach the finals of Slimming World's Greatest Loser 2012 competition.

Calls for swift end to waste wrangle

CALLS have been made for a swift resolution over a mound of rubbish towering above nearby homes in the Black Country.

Dudley South MP Chris Kelly says his mail box is full of complaints from residents about the ongoing situation at the Refuse Derived Fuel Ltd site, in Brierley Hill.

He claims residents feel "very slow progress" has been made on the issue and urgent action is needed. Residents argue the 30ft pile of waste is ruining the area. Mr Kelly's views come just days before officials from Environment Agency are due to take Refuse Derived Fuel Ltd to the High Court. They are seeking an injunction to stop further waste from coming on to the site off Moor Street.

In a letter to residents, the agency's environment manager for the West Midlands, David Hudson, said they have "also served the company with further notices requiring the waste to be cleared." Bosses at Refuse Derived Fuel Ltd refused to comment.

Attacker is jailed for stamping on victim

A MAN who attacked a pub customer after a night out in Halesowen has been jailed for two years.

Simon Field was out with friends at the Rose & Crown on the B4183 Hagley Road on July 2.

Field, aged 30, of Cheshire Close, Stourport, saw victim John Young standing outside a Chinese takeaway, and the pair argued.

Mr David Swinnerton, prosecuting, told Wolverhampton Crown Court: "Field had left the pub and got into his car. He pulled up next to Young and an argument followed."

Field slapped his victim before knocking the food from his hands. Mr Swinnerton added: "The victim had tried to walk off but more abuse followed."

"The defendant punched the victim. He was also kicked to the head and stamped on," Mr Young suffered cuts and bruises.

Mr Stephen Blower, defending, said: "He ran with the wrong crowd at the time." Field admitted attempting to cause grievous bodily harm.

Coffee morning

A PLANT sale and coffee morning will take place at a church on May 12.

It will run from 10am until midday at Warley Woods Methodist Church, in Abbey Road, Smethwick. There will also be stalls with toys, books and bric-a-brac.

£250,000 renovation work right on track for railway

THE SEVERN Valley Railway has reached the end of the track of a major £250,000 renovation project, marking the occasion with a ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Well-wishers and invited guests emerged from carriages pulled by the 1930s Great Western tank, at the mouth of the 480-yard long Bewdley Tunnel.

The ribbon was symbolically cut in front of the locomotive before it was tied to the engine to continue its journey from Kidderminster to Bewdley.

The gathering had been organised to pay homage to the ancient traditions of the navvies who built Britain's railways back in the 1800s – and held parties at the end of major engineering works.

Delighted

The project, which started on January 3, involved replacing worn out tracks and drains throughout the tunnel.

Officials said they were delighted that the three-month long project had come to an end, saying it had been one of their toughest challenges yet.

Around 100 workers, half of which were volunteers, took part in the project, contending with difficult conditions in the dark and cramped confines of the narrow single bore tunnel.

They also often faced sub-zero temperatures and logistical headaches of getting equipment and materials to the isolated stretch.

by Andrew Turton

The railway's visitor service manager David Mee said everyone could "breathe a huge sigh of relief" that all the works had been completed on time and to budget.

"It has been a labour of love for everyone who has been part of this project," he said.

"They have invested so much time into it. We have to pay tribute to them and we could not have done it without their dedication."

Drainage, which was first installed when the line between Bewdley and Kidderminster was built in 1878, had completely broken up in several places.

Contractors worked against the clock to ensure that the works were largely completed to allow trains to use the tunnel for the February half term holidays.

Among the volunteers helping to lay the track was retired construction worker Bob Clift, from Bewdley.

The 65-year-old, said: "Having worked in construction it wasn't really a problem and I found it fine. It's been a good project to work on."

The winning entrepre-nurses

THEY may be the latest line of business entrepreneurs - but they're not aiming to get rich quick.

A group of Dudley nurses are "going it alone" as a social enterprise community interest company and have already won extra business in Sandwell and more than £100,000 funding for new clinics. Within a few months of launching they are about to take on extra staff and have won a national award from the British Journal of Nursing.

The four nurses and one administrative worker, who used to work for NHS Dudley, went "live" with LymphCare UK in November.

They have contracts with the NHS to care for around 1,000 patients in Dudley who have lymphoedema.

Insensitive views on parenting

I AM writing regarding Mr Brian Saunders comments in last weeks chronicle. I am a lesbian, in a committed and stable civil partnership and I have to say I am not interested in the argument as to whether to legalise "gay marriage", as it merely seems to be a matter of semantics.

I consider myself to be married in the truest sense of the word. I have made a deep and lasting commitment to my partner for as long as we live.

The views expressed by you are insensitive to many apart from homosexual couples, especially with regard to your view that because gay couples cannot naturally procreate, their life is meaningless and has no future.

How insulting this is to infertile couples, young widows and widowers, couples who have chosen never to have children, not to mention those who have chosen celibacy.

Would you also claim that these peoples lives have no future because they have chosen or are unable to live within the social "norm" of your nuclear family model?

Who are you to decide that our lives are a "dead end" with no meaning?

Quite apart from this, the desire to parent and form a family is not exclusive to heterosexual couples.

My partner and myself are in the final stages of the adoption process, and have been assessed by social services and the courts as being able to provide the safe and stable home you describe.

The sad fact is, that although our children initially had a mother and a father, they never experienced safe, loving, or supportive parenting and unfortunately, they have suffered significant harm because of this. Simply being heterosexual or being married does not automatically make one a good parent.

Same sex marriages as good as any other

IN response to Brian Saunders letter (April 19).

I have to disagree that a marriage between a man and a woman is the best environment to raise children.

I fail to understand how he thinks a Marriage between same sex couples will sabotage our society more than a "straight marriage". Same sex couples have shown they are capable of raising a loving family and have more experience about teaching their children to value diversity and appreciate other people's beliefs.

Trying to ban "gay marriage" is just another sign homophobia still exists and has chosen to rebrand itself among people who refuse to treat other men and women such as myself as equals.

Claims on NHS from Tories misleading

THE TORIES lay the misleading claim, that despite radical changes to the NHS, it will still be "free at the point of use". Less is said about the fact that not all services, currently free, will be available.

Some services are already furtively being listed as not necessary on the grounds of being either "cosmetic" or "ineffective". Croydon has a catalogue of 34 procedures, which don't have to be offered to patients. These include knee, hip and cataract surgery.

Services may be restricted or denied, despite GP referral for treatment. Vetting procedures are carried out by privately run companies - "referral gateways" - before a patient is allowed or not, to visit a hospital consultant.

Much depends upon the company's assessment, as to who is allowed through the gateway. The procedure is growing in parts of the country. This government is moving, by stealth, to a market health care system. Public indifference and obliviousness are two factors to be overcome, if the NHS is to remain free and accessible.

EDWARD DAVIES, Cobden Street, Stourbridge

Singles forgotten by all the politicians

It seems to me as a single person that all political talk and issues are aimed at "the family".

It is the "family" that is of great concern to politicians, it is the "family" that is suffering hard times at the moment, it is the "family" that is having to struggle. What a load of nonsense!

Never, ever, do you hear how single people are struggling financially and they are seldom spoken of by politicians.

Single people make up a lot of society, they pay taxes, pay VAT, they work hard and are completely forgotten. Single people in their millions in the UK need to use their vote - against the parties who use 'family' as a political vote winner.

Death shatters family

THE FAMILY of a worker who was killed when an overhead crane crushed him against a pillar said their lives have been shattered by the tragedy as an inquest jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Wilfred Williams, aged 57, of Ashtree Road, Tivdale, died as he worked on a crane at C Brown and Sons, Pedmore Road, Brierley Hill.

He and colleague Ross Darby were working 20ft-high in the bucket of a "cherry picker" to replace the end plate of the crane.

Mr Williams, an experienced engineer, had got out of the bucket to tighten some bolts, and then crossed over to an adjacent gantry in the next bay.

The inquest in Smethwick heard another crane coming along the track crushed him, resulting in internal haemorrhaging and shock due to pelvic crush and blunt force injuries.

Black Country coroner Robin Balmain said Mr Darby had told the inquest he did not know why his colleague had moved to the adjacent gantry.

The hearing had also been told there was a "20ft rule" where no crane would operate within six metres of maintenance work but Mr Balmain said it appeared this was not an "absolute rule".

And halting operations at adjacent bays was done on discretion. In a statement, Mr Williams' son Adam said: "We are pleased the coroner's inquiry has answered some of our questions as to what happened on the day my father died doing the job he loved for the last 14 years. He was a loving and caring father and husband and our lives have been shattered as a result of his death."

Graham Brown, chairman of C Brown and Sons, said: "On behalf of the company, I would like to firstly state our thoughts and sincere condolences are with the family and friends of Wilf Williams."

"We are acutely aware that we can say little of comfort to the family for their tragic loss. Wilf was a valued, respected and much loved friend and colleague to everyone at the company and is greatly missed."

Mothers wanted to help breastfeeding scheme

HEALTH bosses in Dudley have launched an appeal to find experienced mothers to help with a breastfeeding awareness campaign.

The Breastfeeding Buddies scheme has been organised by staff at NHS Dudley in a bid to give new mothers more information.

Mothers with their own experiences of breastfeeding will take part in a nine-week training course on how to support new mothers.

The buddies will provide hints and tips to pregnant women, fathers and new mothers over the phone, through home visits or at children's centres in the borough.

About 140 Breastfeeding Buddies have already received training as part of the scheme. Trained buddies are also based at the hospitals in the borough helping new mothers.

Specific information on technique is given to mothers as part of the buddies scheme as well as details on where to find baby-friendly places in the area where breastfeeding is allowed.

For more details, people are asked to contact one of five children's centres in the borough by visiting www.childrenscentres.dudley.gov.uk

New mothers looking for advice and support can call the family information service on 01384 814398.

Training has been assessed by Unicef's Baby Friendly project.

Region's Scout numbers showing a big increase

Wall plaque for Tyson

Rose Beedles with the plaque to Tyson the dog

A PLAQUE has been put up in memory of a much-loved dog which was stabbed to death.

Donations flooded in since Tyson was attacked by Simon Follos in Abbey Street, Lower Gornal, with more than £700 raised.

The plaque is on a wall in Abbey Street, near the spot where the attack happened. It reads: "Tyson Bird - devoted, faithful and much-loved companion to your loving dad Wayne. You will always be remembered by all of your family and friends in Gornal." Follos, aged 38, attacked the dog near his home in Abbey Street, Lower Gornal. Rose Beedles, Mr Bird's aunt, has plans to also use the money to fix hooks outside shops to hold dog leads.

MORE THAN 300 youngsters in the Black Country and Staffordshire have joined the Scouts over the past year, helping boost national numbers.

Figures from The Scout Association show 182 new Scouts signed up in the Black Country in the last 12 months pushing the total to 6,119.

In Staffordshire, 150 signed up. The total number in the region stands at 9,074. Officials said this represented growth of more than three per cent in the Black Country and nearly two per cent in Staffordshire.

The increase has helped raise total UK membership of the movement to 525,327.

Reopening

One of the biggest increases has been in Stourbridge, where 134 new members have joined in the last year. Officials said the rise had been helped by the reopening of the Scout group in Kinver followed by the opening of Beaver and Cub Scout groups at Halfpenny Green, near Wolverhampton.

An annual census released by the Scout movement reveals 55 Explorer Scouts, youngsters aged 14 to 18, were signed up in the Black Country and 15 in Staffordshire. Nationally, 2,544 have joined up in the past year. Group Scout Leader for Kinver Martin Jones said the Beaver, Cub and Scout groups for the village were presently fully subscribed with 90 members in all.

Mr Jones, aged 38, said: "Kinver has excellent facilities for scouting, including its own camp which is used by groups all across the region."

Ladies' night for charity

A LADIES' night is being laid on to raise cash for two charities.

Debbie Price is organising the event at Station Hotel, Castle Hill, Dudley, on June 15.

Pigeons feeding outside Charles' loft which was near to Bilston Fire Station

The Dicken medal awarded to brave animals

A model of Winkie the first pigeon to receive the Dicken medal

Lofty status for the pigeons that were bred for racing

A BLACK COUNTRY man's fancy, more often than not, was a pigeon, with local men in the late 19th and early 20th century cooing sweet nothings over their birds.

Pigeon keeping was a popular pastime in the Black Country, not only for the sport of racing but also as a source of extra meat and eggs.

Pigeon fanciers lavished attention on their feathered friends in the hope they hatched into champion racers or bred a much-prized pedigree "squeaker", and brightly painted pigeon lofts were a distinctive feature of the landscape.

Top of the pigeon-fancying pecking order was Charles Purslow who achieved celebrity-status in Bilston pigeon flying circles.

Over a 70 year period his flock won an array of awards. Mr Purslow knew all his birds by name, his favourites being those who won the most races and two of his favourites were "Peggy" and "Bilston Blue". He would often take his tea up to the loft and wait all day for the birds to return.

by Black Country Living Museum's Fiona Carding

For almost 100 years Charles' pigeon loft nestled next to Bilston Fire Station, which is now alongside the Black Country Route, housing around 30 birds.

Charles used to race on the southern circuit, which he preferred as this included channel crossing races.

Later the club changed to flying on the north circuit. They would start short training races from March, taking the pigeons on the transporter on a Friday for the start of the race on Saturday. The winner of the race would then be announced on Saturday night.

Mr Purslow was also a member of the national pigeon service during the war, in which the birds were used to take messages into occupied territory.

Clare Weston, Curator of Domestic and Cultural Life said: "Charles' flock did its bit for the war effort. During the Second World War his pigeons were conscripted as messenger birds, along with 20,000 other pigeons, into the AIF Pigeon Service."

There were 32 pigeons awarded the Dicken Medal, the animal Victoria Cross, for gallantry or devotion during the Second World War. The first recipients of the award, in December 1943, were three pigeons, serving with the Royal Air Force.

So next time you're in the garden, take another look at that pigeon on your bird table - his ancestor may well have changed the course of history.

There's hope for the silent sufferers

It's hard to imagine after losing natural teeth things could ever be quite the same again.

Denture wearers for too long have often tolerated a catalogue of unresolved problems from poor stabilisation, where prosthetics move on the gums, to an inability to eat a healthy diet.

Added to the physical challenges are the carefully hidden embarrassing moments and the restrictions of being able to live life impulsively. These issues are further compounded for some by an emotionally corrosive inability to smile freely.

Denturist Steven Burchell DipCDT RCS (Eng), who heads the team at the Denture Clinic in North Street, Dudley, says: "For some, losing teeth is life changing and not for the better."

But he is keen to send out a message of hope to the silent sufferers with four major treatment models now available at his clinic aimed at reversing "an untold catalogue of misfortunes" and restoring a warm and engaging smile.

Added to the comprehensive clinical toolbox of solutions - which includes traditional dentures; a cleverly designed suction denture which is held in place by tiny diaphragms creating a vacuum between the gums and teeth; and implant retained dentures - is a system known as All-on-4.

In this feature we take a snapshot of each procedure and in accessible language explain the clinical options available from Mr Burchell and his team.

ULTRA SUCTION

The Ultra Suction system is suitable for both upper and lower prosthetics

Suction offers a new solution

A cutting-edge development to help resolve the stability problems faced by thousands of denture wearers is being offered at the Denture Clinic.

The invention has the potential to improve the life quality of patients who have previously experienced long-term problems with ill-fitting dentures.

Prosthetics are held in place by tiny valve-operated suction devices which are built into the dentures.

A clever diaphragms principle, triggered by the bite pressure on patients' gums, creates a 'sucking' vacuum between the soft-tissue mouth lining and the prosthetic.

Expectations

Mr Burchell, whose clinic attracts patients from as far as Spain, the Isle of Skye and the Isle of Anglesey, adds: "The denture revolution is evolving at a pace. In recent times we have seen what I can only describe as strident steps forward with implant-retained dentures coming into main-stream dentistry, clever technology which allows excellent fitting outcomes and now the Ultra Suction product."

"Implant dentistry is not suitable for everyone, neither is it all patients' first preference. The beauty of this technology from New Zealand is that it offers excellent denture retainer qualities without surgery."

"We have always endeavoured to be on the very cusp of clinical development and this is another tool in our commitment to always try to deliver results which are greater than patient expectations," adds Mr Burchell.

Transformations

And coming soon, the clever teeth you don't have to take out to clean ...

REMOVABLE DENTURES

ARE they real, or are they false? With cutting-edge technology it's hard to know the difference between natural teeth and clever dentures.

Clinic principal Steve Burchell, whose work has attracted interest from as far as away as Spain, the Isle of Skye, Eastbourne and North Wales, is driving hard a message of hope, which is helping to change the image of false teeth and the people who wear them.

Mr Burchell DipCDT RCS(Eng), says: "It's my experience that there are too many people putting up with ill-fitting dentures. With lips that are pinched, lower dentures with excessive mobility allowing food ingress between the plate and the gums, sore spots and teeth that do not function well, it's no wonder so many wearers feel at a loss in their search for solutions to their problems."

But the clinician, who has earned a country-wide reputation as a 'smile mechanic', is buoyant about the future for solutions with dentures.

He passionately embraces what he calls "the denture revolution" offering traditional denture wearers precise fittings with the latest injection moulding techniques and natural-looking teeth that are functional too.

"We desperately want people to know there is a solution for most problems. The clinic has a vast wealth of experience to draw upon and we promise to give as much time as people need to resolve issues with the best clinical outcomes," Mr Burchell adds.

IMPLANT RETAINED

A GROWING number of satisfied patients have found a renewed confidence by ditching their traditional dentures for implant retained dentures.

The procedure that became an established form of dentistry in the United States in recent years can now be carried out with the Denture Clinic - and the transition can mean new teeth, which can function just as if they were your own.

Fixed with small titanium screw-like mechanisms that are set, and eventually fused into the bone, they act as an effective substitute for the roots of your missing teeth.

Implantologist, Mr Jon Pugh BDS MSc, with whom the clinic has a long-established working relationship, undertakes all the surgical procedures.

Research reveals that as little as two dental implants in the lower jaw will significantly stabilise the prosthetic. A similar procedure can secure the upper teeth, normally with four implant fixings.

The dentures can be snapped on and off their fixings by the patient and provide a guaranteed solution for stabilisation problems.

Advantages include a harmonious fit with gums, the possibility of improved speech and taste, natural chewing function and bite, no more tilting and the end of pressure spot discomfort, restored chewing ability, improved diet, the end of further jaw bone erosion and the smile of your dreams.

ALL-ON-4

A treatment pioneered in Portugal that offers denture wearers teeth that never have to be taken out for cleaning is arriving at the clinic in the New Year. Known as All-on-4, the system embraces implant technology with just four securing post supporting a titanium framework of teeth.

Fly-tippers ignore blocks put in to stop dumping

DJ Stuart reopens home

DJ Stuart Maconie opens refurbished Sunfield school with the principal Amanda Jones, Ian Jones, Mark Brocklebank and Andrew Prosser

A £300,000 refurbishment at a home in the Midlands for children with severe learning difficulties has been officially reopened by a radio presenter.

The facility at Sunfield School and children's home in Clent, near Stourbridge, was reopened by Stuart Maconie who presents a BBC 6 music show.

Birch House caters for children whose complex needs mean they need to live at Sunfield where bosses say they hope the facelift will lead to more vacancies for student staff, which in turn, will create jobs.

Around 40 people attended the opening and Mr Maconie, who is a supporter of the school, was given a tour of the site in Woodman Lane.

Sunfield spokeswoman Katherine Worton said: "It was a brilliant day and the weather held out for us. We were very pleased."

MORE rubbish, including at least 20 car tyres, has been dumped on land near a Dudley street just weeks after council chiefs installed barriers in a bid to stop fly-tippers.

Yobs have been setting fire to the tyres which are now scattered down a 40ft slope to a disused railway line in Pensnett.

Household waste in bin bags, plastic and cardboard is among the litter dumped recently.

The waste has been dumped on land off Gibbons Lane where previous fly-tipping incidents were reported. Concrete blocks as barriers had been placed at the end of the lane to stop vehicles. The huge blocks had been placed in response to complaints from neighbours of the land.

They say they are concerned culprits have now switched to dumping on land just off the roadway down the bank.

It leads from the former line operated by Pensnett Mineral Railway Company which ran from Staffordshire and Worcestershire Canal at Ashwood, serving various collieries and factories including Round Oak steel works.

They say the lane off Pensnett High Street is obscured by high hedges allowing fly-tippers to evade capture.

Resident John Palmer said: "People are still dumping down there which is costing the taxpayer each time the council has to come here to clear up."

Dudley Council's director of urban environment, John Millar, said it was working to tackle the issue.

"It is illegal and causes an eyesore for people living nearby."

Flower club meeting date

THE NEXT meeting of Halesowen Flower Club is at Shenstone Theatre on Wednesday May 10.

Demonstrator for the evening will be Beryl Griffiths, with the theme of Upstairs Downstairs.

Campaigners say theatre could train future stars

CAMPAIGNERS battling to save Dudley's former Hippodrome say it could provide an ideal training ground for the next generation performers.

The Friends of Dudley Hippodrome are appealing to schools to back their campaign to get the building reopened.

Retired college lecturer Geoff Fitzpatrick, who is helping to lead the campaign, believes students could use the old theatre to hone their stage skills. He said: "I believe the Dudley Hippodrome has a lot to offer them. It would be great place for them to learn all about theatre."

"The stage has seen so many great people over the years. It would be nice if it could see the next generation of performers too."

"I am hoping all of the schools will get involved and support the campaign."

Dudley Council bought the theatre building, which was a Gala Bingo hall in more recent years, in 2009 but it has been lying empty ever since.

The area has been earmarked by the authority's leisure and tourism chiefs for a multi-million pound regeneration project.

But council bosses say they may be forced to demolish the theatre as there has been no interest in anyone taking the building on.

The newly formed Friends group wants to not only to save the building but also restore the site as a major entertainment venue.

Anyone who is interested in helping the campaigners can email gfitzpatrick@hotmail.co.uk or call 07875 901369.

Nicole has got talent

A star in the making – Nicole Appleby of Wolverhampton recording in the studios of Raindance Music Ltd, Amblecote

Plans for block of flats

A FOUR-STOREY block of flats could be built in Stourbridge under new plans.

Proposals for 12 one-bedroom apartments in Worcester Street have been lodged with council chiefs.

Under the plans, the flats would be on land formerly used by Hanbury Nurseries.

The site has been lying empty since 2007 but now Richard Homes Ltd of Stourbridge has submitted plans.

A 15-YEAR-OLD singing sensation who won the Midlands Got Talent competition at Netherton's Champions Church is now recording her debut CD.

Nicole Appleby fought off competition from more than 100 other hopefuls to win time with production company Raindance Music Ltd, based at Amblecote Christian Centre, Brettell Lane, Stourbridge.

Her interpretation of the Fontella Bass 60s' soul classic Rescue Me dazzled the judges at the annual charity fundraiser, modelled on television's Britain's Got Talent.

The teenager is now hoping to impress music scouts with her covers compilation album as she plans a career in performing arts.

Nicole, of Low Hill Crescent, Low Hill, Wolverhampton, and a pupil at the city's North East Academy, admits she was stunned by her success. "I still can't believe I won. The standard was really high."

Bosses go to capital for meeting with Vince Cable

OWNER managers from a Dudley company have met Business Secretary Vince Cable to urge him to do more to make sure firms get loans vital to their success.

Kevin O'Toole and Laura Loveys are directors of Eurocraft Enclosures.

They joined Dudley North MP Ian Austin for the meeting in Westminster last week. Eurocraft employs more than 100 people and has a full order book but the directors say its opportunities for further growth and job creation have been restricted by the lack of available finance. The directors raised their concerns with Mr Cable and questioned him about the Government's plans to help manufacturing small and medium enterprise (SME) companies.

Mr O'Toole, the managing director, said: "Eurocraft are typical of many SME companies who need access to affordable finance options, which is an essential tool to help secure and deliver new business."

"In the absence of acceptable lending criteria, we have had to be creative in self-funding growth, but this is not sustainable."

Eurocraft designs, engineers, manufactures and supplies telecommunication housings for companies such as BT and Virgin. Mr Austin set up the Westminster meeting after visiting Eurocraft in December.

£1,400 in wife's memory

A WIDOWER who ran the London Marathon in memory of his wife who died just a month after their son was born raised more than £1,400.

Matt Johnson

Karen Johnson

Matt Johnson, aged 38, of Rowley Regis completed the run to raise funds for the Cystic Fibrosis Trust in a bid to help them find a cure for the disease from which his wife Karen suffered.

He finished the run in four hours 41 minutes and was cheered across the finishing line by his number one fan, his son Harry, who had made his own "Go Dad Go" sign.

Matt, who lives in Churchill Drive and is a web manager at Sandwell Council, aimed to raise £1,000, but has already had £1,429 in donations and is expecting more.

He said: "After originally hoping to raise £500 for the charity I've been overwhelmed at the support of friends, family, colleagues and strangers who have given their money for this cause which is very close to my heart." Karen, who was diagnosed with Cystic Fibrosis as a child, died aged 32 in 2004 just a month after Harry was born. The disease affects the internal organs, especially the lungs and digestive system. Matt said the experience of running the marathon was one he would never forget.

"The crowds were amazing - constantly clapping and cheering and shouting out my name, which I'd written on the front of my running vest," he said. "At mile 25 I knew I'd got family waiting to cheer me along to the final mile. Harry had made a placard with "Go Dad Go", it was very emotional seeing them and it helped block out my aching legs and go that last mile past Big Ben, past Buckingham Palace and down The Mall to the finish line."

Classes in lifesaving

SWIMMERS can learn lifesaving skills with a nationally recognised course at the Crystal Leisure Centre, Stourbridge. The Royal Life Saving Society (RLSS) national pool lifeguard course runs from May 21 to 25 with an exam on May 26.

Participants will receive a course manual and tuition and will be expected to take an exam. Those who complete the course successfully will obtain an official lifeguard qualification. Participants must be over 16. Sessions run 8am to 5.30pm.

Double decker tribute as Angus takes last journey

MORE than 500 mourners turned out to pay their final respects to a popular Dudley councillor, who died suddenly at the age of 67.

The funeral of Dudley Council's regeneration chief, Councillor Angus Adams, was at St Mary's Church, Oldswinford. Mourners began arriving more than an hour before the service started.

Party differences were put to one side as councillors from across the political spectrum paid tribute to a "dedicated" man remembered for his sense of humour.

Around 550 people turned out in total and as a mark of respect to Councillor Adams - who was also chairman of Centro - representatives from the organisation arrived in a double decker bus.

It remained parked up outside the church throughout the funeral service, which was led by Rev Ruth Atkinson.

Chief Executive of Dudley Council John Polychronakis gave a Bible reading before Councillor Adams' grand-daughters Amy and Jessica read poems. The final hymn was Jerusalem and the musical piece Highland Cathedral was played to mark Councillor Adams' Scottish heritage.

A private service was then held at Stourbridge Crematorium. A tribute was read out by his sister Carol who said her brother, christened Arthur, had been raised in Aberdeen.

She said the family did not have much money but had wanted for nothing. The family had later moved to England and it was there Councillor Adams received the nickname he would come to be known by.

A test of beauty skills

BEAUTY therapy students from Halesowen College are busy polishing their skills ahead of a Midlands talent contest next month.

Beth Bryan, Rachel Hickman and Claire Wade are among several Halesowen students due to take part in the regional heat of the Worldskills competition, being held at Birmingham NEC on May 13 and 14.

Students have to carry out three treatments, a half leg wax, facial and deluxe manicure, in the hope of progressing to a national final. Beth, aged 22, is a former pupil of Heathfield School, while 17-year-old Rachel went to Thorns School and Community College.

Michelle Trevis, beauty lecturer at Halesowen College, said: "They all have been working really hard on their techniques for this competition."

"It is a chance for our students to compete against others and show off what they have learnt."

"The contest will also be good experience for them to be able to work under pressure and to a deadline."

Man jailed for £40,000 cannabis set up in unit

On the tracks of success

Cradley Heath Model Railway Club founder Doug Grazier with the US Four Corners layout at the Dudley model railway exhibition, Stourbridge

More than 1,100 made tracks to a Black Country railway exhibition.

Visitors to the Bonded Warehouse in Stourbridge were entertained by model trains running around 12 different layouts. There were demonstrations for families stopping by the attraction as well as trade stands for the real enthusiasts. The event, in its 24th year, was organised by the Stourbridge Railway Society.

Money raised from the exhibition will go towards improvement work at the Bonded Warehouse in Canal Street. Chris Dyche, aged 68, one of the organisers, said: "It was an excellent event and we are already getting ready for our next one which will be our 25th."

A BLACK COUNTRY man who allowed a £400,000-a-year cannabis farm to operate in an industrial unit he was renting has been jailed for two years.

David Penn, of John F Kennedy Walk, Tipton, was paid £6,400 for six months' use of the £800-a-month property in Stag Industrial Estate, Oxford Street, Bilston, Wolverhampton Crown Court heard.

Prosecutor Miss Helena Miller said he had taken out a 12-month lease on the unit to supposedly make garden ornaments.

But, when police raided it on June 21 last year, they found hidden behind a false wall 320 cannabis plants growing in eight tents equipped with special power supply, watering arrangements and high-intensity lighting.

Miss Miller said experts estimated the farm could produce three crops a year with a street value of £400,000.

Police established 48-year-old Penn was renting the industrial unit. He handed himself in on July 28. Mr Richard Dawson, defending, insisted: "He was acting as a dupe for others more sophisticated than him."

He had been unemployed for some time and was trying to make a go of his own business, so closed his eyes to what might have been going on behind the false wall."

Penn who had previous convictions for dishonesty, admitted allowing premises to be used for cannabis production.

It was estimated Penn made £6,400 from the cannabis farm deal. He was ordered to repay £1.

Macabre history tour

HISTORIANS are preparing to tell the story of a Black Country cemetery during its 130-year old history.

A new guided tour will be taking place at Lye and Walscote Cemetery. The event, in Cemetery Road, will be on May 5 at 11pm and 2pm led by authors Jean Weston and Marlene Price who wrote a book detailing its history.

Deep down in the Hall of the Mountain King

What is the appeal descending underground to crawl through mud in the dark and damp? REBECCA CARR dons her lamp and hard hat to find out

WHY would anyone want to go caving? Not even Glastonbury could prepare me for how muddy I would get.

You spend hours squeezing through tight spaces, climbing up slippery uneven surfaces and crawling through icy water. It's cold, dark and damp.

On a bright sunny morning in South Wales, I took the plunge into darkness with Dudley Caving Club and crawled my way into Ogof Craig A Ffynnon to find out.

After a short scramble, the cave opened up into a small cavern full of "straw" stalactites suspended from the ceiling.

This was my first insight into the spectacular world underground. By the time we reached the grandest chamber, aptly named The Hall of the Mountain King, I had forgotten the claustrophobic crawls we had achieved to get there.

It looked like a film set, more Lord of the Rings than the 2005 caving-based horror film The Descent.

The five-metre stalactites and matching stalagmites were enough to understand why people are spending their weekends down in caves rather than in their gardens.

Chairman of Dudley Caving Club, Keith Edwards, said: "I don't know why I like caving. It still amazes me when we crawl through all the grotty stuff and it opens up into somewhere like the Hall of the Mountain King."

I was relieved to have the help of fellow novice caver, Chloe Burney, a vet working in Sedgley. Her reason for joining Dudley Caving Club was that she wanted to do something that scared her after feeling unimpressed by a tandem skydive.

Chloe said: "I'm not the most natural caver but I think my enthusiasm counts. "My friends don't understand why I would choose to go caving."

One caver, Jess Harding, said she knew one friend who started caving after watching The Descent.

Managed

It has created a bad reputation for the hobby and many people warned me to avoid seeing it before my underground adventure. To put people's minds at rest, there's nothing down there, except for a small bat.

With a little help and an extra ladder pitched for the beginners, I managed all of the tunnels and climbs.

The boulder choke a corkscrew tunnel created by boulders - proved challenging with a scary head-first decent on the way back out.

Mark Burkey was thrilled that his new diet allowed him to make the final squeeze before we turned back and headed into the sunshine.

The smell of fresh air once we reached the surface was a welcome relief after four hours down in the caves.

It could have been an ordeal, but the friendly team of cavers helping me along the way made the whole experience rewarding and at times, even fun.

The bruises, aches and pains just act as proof that I survived.

Caving is a hobby that you would either love or hate but it is definitely worth having a go to find out.

If interested in joining Dudley Caving Club call Keith on 0121 525 1230 or visit www.dudleycavingclub.org.uk

Bowling shield is presented

PELSALL 'E' TOWNSWOMEN

THE annual Federation Dinner was again held at the Terrace Restaurant, Brownhills. Members enjoyed a delicious meal and the usual lively roll call of the 16 guilds forming the South Staffordshire Federation.

Margaret Worrall and Flora Petty were presented with the Federation Bowls Shield by chairman Shirley Aulton. Entertainment was by Lisa Jayne Smith as 'Marie Lloyd', a late substitute for the absent speaker. Bridgemere Garden World and Dagfields Craft & Antique Centre were ideal locations for a trip on a dull, showery April day.

The formal part of the meeting on April 19 concluded with the presentation of a certificate and badge to Brenda Dyke in recognition of 25 years membership.

Jim Wall of Bloxwich Research & Metal Detecting Club was an enthusiastic speaker. The competition for the most popular metal ornament was won by Irene Williams and Shirley Chester. Angela Lawrence won the raffle.

The next Lunch Club meeting is on May 29 at Essington Country Kitchen at Essington Fruit Farm. Details from Margaret Tolley on 01922 684647.

There is no official meeting on May 17. Members will be enjoying the guild's 49th birthday dinner at the Beverley Hotel in Walsall.

The contestants in the talent competition

The audience at The Harrier pub enjoyed the singing

Abigail Ford, aged 12

YOUNG performers wowed an audience of hundreds at a talent competition held at Black Country pub.

The Tipton pub was staging the final of the popular annual competition.

Hundreds of people crammed into The Harrier, in Powis Avenue, to see who would win this year's Tipton's Got Talent event on Saturday.

The final honour went to last year's runner-up, 11-year-old Summerhill Primary pupil Caitlan Parker, who impressed the judges with her singing voice.

The youngster performed two songs - Over the Rainbow and The Power of Love. And the second performance received a standing ovation.

Caitlan was presented with the top prize of £600 but has not yet decided what to spend the money on.

Her proud mother Karen McAfee said her daughter was still in shock at winning the competition.

"It was a really great night for her and the response she received from the crowd was absolutely amazing," she said. "I think it is still sinking in for her at the moment. She has a wonderful singing voice and likes to perform when she is at home."

The competition takes place over four weeks with residents invited to apply. The first and second weeks feature all the performers who have applied and the third week is the semi-final where some exit the competition, leaving 10 to go through to the last week.

Brilliant

People are then asked to vote for their favourite semi-finals acts in the week leading up to the final.

Pub manager Maxine Millard said it had been a great night.

"The pub was absolutely packed. Caitlan gave a brilliant performance and when she sang the Power of Love it absolutely bought the house down."

Other performers who took to the stage were runner-up, 12-year-old Abigail Ford; Bridie Garrett, 14; Caitlin Bradnick, nine; Tina McAfee, 44; and 10-year-old Charley Bowen.

Duchess Lizzie comes back

DUCHESS of Dudley Lizzie Wiggins says she is now "back in harness" after taking time out from the stage to care for her husband after he was taken seriously ill.

The much-loved comedienne said her spouse of three years, Richard, was now on the road to recovery after suffering both heart failure and lung cancer. Lizzie, real name Marie Williams, said her comedy alter-ego had been a source of strength to them both by helping them to keep positive. She said her husband's recovery had been "remarkable" and he was now working on the speech he would give at the wedding of his eldest son, Graham, on May 26. Lizzie has already been back on the stage. "I was only able to do those shows with the help of my fellow cast members," she said.

Beauty spot visitors up in spite of car fees hike

A BEAUTY spot in South Staffordshire is increasing in popularity – despite dire warnings that walkers would boycott it after a massive hike in parking charges.

It is mainly thanks to an increase in the sale of six-monthly season passes for the car park, which are much cheaper. The number of visitors arriving by car at Baggesley Country Park, near Sedgley, has increased by 1,425 since January when the 78 per cent increase in daily parking charges sparked fury among ramblers and dog walkers at the site.

Council bosses put the 17 per cent increase over the same period the year before down to more people becoming aware that they can apply for a six-month pass for just £18.

A total of 44 more season passes have been purchased, almost nine times as many as before, says the council.

Regular walkers at Baggesley in January threatened to boycott the car park – and switch to other beauty spots – when parking charges went up from £1.40 for a whole day to £1.50 for just one hour. A day's parking increased to £2.50, a rise of 78 per cent.

But Jackie Smith, director of environmental services for the council, said: "We are pleased the facility is valued and that people have appreciated the six-month passes and are now benefiting from that. There hasn't been a negative impact and the country park still thrives." Mrs Smith added: "The publicity about the increase in parking charges also brought to people's attention the fact six-month passes were available."

Students on the catwalk

Beauty students at Kidderminster College will be showcasing their talents on the catwalk next month.

A show called The Seven Deadly Sins will take place at the college in Market Street on May 9. Models will be on the catwalk at 2pm, 4pm and 9pm. Every audience member will be included in a free prize draw. For further details, call 01562 820811.

Portable pressure packs

Practice nurse Louise Johnston taking the blood pressure of patient Jack Bates

PORTABLE blood pressure machines are being handed out to GP surgeries across Dudley.

They will improve the way doctors diagnose whether patients have the condition and reduce the number of unnecessary appointments.

Anyone suspected of having high blood pressure will be sent home by their GP and asked to wear a monitor for 24 hours. The results will then be analysed by the doctors before any treatment is prescribed.

At the moment it is checked in the surgery and then the patient is invited back for additional readings to be taken so an average measurement can be calculated. The ABPM machines have been provided by Dudley Clinical Commissioning Group after changes in the national guidelines.

COMPETITION

All the fun of the air at show

JUNE is always a special date in the diary of aircraft enthusiasts with all the fun of the air on offer at the Cosford Air Show

And the Chronicle has teamed up with the organisers to offer 12 readers the chance to win a pair of tickets to the show on Sunday, June 17. The 2012 Air Show brings a variety of military and civilian air craft together to produce a spectacular five and a half hour display.

Featuring the wonders of the RAF Red Arrows and Battle of Britain Memorial Flight, a role demonstration from the RAF's Tornado including pyrotechnics, the vintage pair Meteor and Vampire and the Royal Naval Historic Flight, just to name a few, this year's show is set to be one of the most exciting yet.

Experience first hand the training the RAF provides with demonstrations from the specialisations of Aeronautical Engineering, Information and Communication Technology, Physical Training and Tri-service Photography, all part of the Defence College and Schools at RAF Cosford.

Exhibits

For those a little too young to join up, the RAF Air Cadets will be there to exhibit the many different opportunities available for teenagers with interactive displays and climbing walls. There will be fairground rides and sophisticated simulator rides and musical displays from the RAF Regiment Band and the Cosford Voluntary Band.

If you are looking for retail therapy you will be spoilt for choice with an indoor craft fair, plenty of market stalls and exhibits on the airfield and in our hangars as well as free entry to the RAF Museum.

Tickets will be £25 on the gate (only cash on the day), £20 in advance and free for children under 16 when accompanied by an adult. All major credit cards are accepted on the 24-hour ticket line: 0871 230 1083 (calls charged at 10p per min plus network charges).

Tickets are also available from the RAF Museum Cosford, Tourist Information Centres in Shrewsbury, Stoke, Stafford and Solihull and in Mid Counties Co-Operative stores. For full information go to www.cosfordairshow.co.uk or call 0844 561 1897

Show will feature a display by the breathtaking Red Arrows

CSI: NY

Channel 5, 10.20pm

In a world where gamers can win serious money for hitting buttons fast enough, it seems some of them will do anything to stay alert. That's the basis for this week's gritty slice of Big Apple action involving a few Austin Powers-style game-related gags. 'It looks like the game he was calling ended in sudden death,' quips Mac, with all the sensitivity of a man getting drunk at a funeral. CSI analysis reveals the drug boosts concentration, so when the crime-busters discover he was a referee in a high-stakes video-gaming tournament, they suspect he was killed for confiscating the illegal substance. Crime drama, starring Gary Sinise and Sela Ward.

PLANET EARTH LIVE

BBC1, 7.50pm

Normally when you hear phrases like 'the most ambitious live wildlife series ever undertaken' being banded about by the BBC, you expect the name David Attenborough to crop up as well. So, it may come as a surprise to find that Planet Earth Live is actually being helmed by Richard Hammond and Julia Bradbury — with a little help from some of the expert cameramen and women from the BBC Natural History Unit. Together, they'll be spending May tracking the progress of young animals across the world. In the opener, Richard is in Kenya, tracking a pride of lions that are in the middle of a takeover.

New city Skoda is the perfect car for families

"This is the biggest-growing segment in Europe," notes Jurgen Stackmann enthusiastically over dinner. He should know, being on the board of directors in charge of

At 3.5m in length, the Citigo is ideal for negotiating narrow city streets

sales and marketing at Skoda, the Volkswagen-owned Czech brand.

Stackmann is referring to this new A0 grouping of entry-level small cars that his firm's new Citigo car will fit into.

It marks the carmaker's entry into this tiny city commuter car category, from where it hopes to tap a broader market.

According to Skoda research, we are returning to life in the urban jungle. And to survive, which generally means getting from A to B, requires a car like the Citigo. The name, as you've probably noted, leaves little ambiguity about the positioning of this car. At the pinnacle of this untapped market, Stackmann earnestly tells me, is the wife of a young urban family – someone like mine, he notes.

They have a couple of kids and the family may have a couple of cars but the wife prefers a run-around like the Citigo that is small, safe and practical for the school and shopping run. Skoda prides itself on safety and this car – alongside its siblings the VW Up! and Seat Mii – has a four-star Euro NCAP safety rating.

Earlier that morning we were flown to Portugal's capital, Lisbon, to test the Citigo. We drove out of the city, up the mountains, zig-zagged through snaky country lanes, and returned to the city. Despite its small stature and equally small engine, the Citigo can handle itself. So it is more than just a city car – the Citigo will be comfortable in hilly suburbs too.

Overcrowded It is, admittedly, particularly happy in its natural habitat, the dense overcrowded city centre – in this case, cobbled narrow roads, where the Citigo's length of 3.5m is a life saver. This being friendly Skoda, the lack of brand aggression also means other road users are happy to let us merge lanes – at times almost motioning us to overtake!

I'm impressed by the thoughtful design features in the cabin, – unashamedly aimed at a female buyer – including a brilliant mobile phone holder above the gear

Theodore Porter, GEM's oldest member, was 28 when he joined in 1942

1940s and 1950s memorabilia from GEM's archive collection

80 years of safety is a Gem of driving

ROAD safety organisation and breakdown cover provider GEM Motoring Assist is celebrating its 80th anniversary and 80 years of road safety campaigning.

Formed in 1932 to champion road safety, GEM now supports conferences, award schemes and research. GEM continues to back national and local road safety campaigns, donating equipment for training, assessment and vision screening, and producing free motoring advice and road safety leaflets and videos.

GEM chief executive David Williams said: "The legend has it that our founder was involved in a 'near miss' with a young man in a sports car in 1932 and in response, a group of friends formed a club to encourage Care, Courtesy and Concentration on the roads, to reduce the growing accident toll ... and so the Company of Veteran Motorists was born."

"There have been many motoring changes in our 80 years and we have played our part. From drink-driving and motorway speed limits to lighter evenings and driving with pets, we have moved with the times, but our aim is still the same: to keep motorists as safe as possible on the road."

To mark the occasion, GEM has found vintage cars, one from each of the last eight decades and will take them for a drive around the Newhouse Estate in Wiltshire. An article about the drive will appear in the next issue of GEM's magazine Good Motoring. The piece will look at road safety facts and figures from the past 80 years.

"It is really interesting to see in which decade new laws were introduced to make the roads safer for drivers and reduce accident rates," Mr Williams said. "For example, in 1958 Volvo was the first to introduce the seatbelt, but it wasn't until 1983 that it became compulsory to wear one in the UK when in the front seat; something which is second nature to us these days."

Road safety history:
1932 The Company of Veteran Motorists is founded, a year after the publication of the first Highway Code.
1934 A 30mph limit is imposed in built-up areas. Zebra crossings are introduced. New drivers have to pass a test.

1935 There are 35 million vehicles on the world's roads. A 30mph speed limit is introduced for towns and villages.

1939 Petrol rationing is introduced, allowing each motorist about 200 miles of motoring per month.

1942 Theodore Porter from Clevedon in Somerset, joins the Company of Veteran Motorists. Seventy years later, at 98, he is GEM's longest-serving member.

1950 The British government ends petrol rationing.

1958 Volvo introduces the seatbelt.

1959 The M1 'London to Birmingham' motorway, the UK's first is opened.

1961 The 'MOT' is introduced for cars over 10 years old.

1965 The Government introduces a 70mph maximum speed as a 'four month experiment'.

1967 The breathalyser is introduced. All cars sold in Britain must now be fitted with front seatbelts.

1973 Motorists queue for petrol and speeds are restricted to 50mph to conserve national stocks and consumption.

1978 The Mercedes Benz S-class becomes the first production car with ABS.

1981 The Mercedes Benz S-class gets a driver airbag.

1983 Front seatbelt use becomes compulsory in the UK.

1986 The first speed camera was introduced, in Texas.

1987 All new cars sold in the UK must now be fitted with rear seatbelts.

1994 European crash test standards, later to become EuroNCAP, begin.

2002 Finnish sausage heir Jussi Salomaa was caught driving at 50mph in a 25 zone. He gets a salary-based fine of more than £120,000.

2003 It becomes illegal to use a hand-held mobile phone while driving.

2010 A Swedish driver is detected at 180mph by a camera in Switzerland, leading to a fine of £538,000.

A 1956 Austin Healey roadster

A five-metre cable and charging set tucks away underneath the Prius's boot floor

Toyota putting an end to the distance anxiety

PRIUS Plug-in, which reaches showrooms in July, offers all the familiar virtues of Prius and quite a few more.

It is powered by a full hybrid powertrain, but thanks to new, rechargeable lithium-ion battery technology, it can cover longer distances and reach higher speeds on electric power alone.

Seamlessly
Once the charge in the battery is used, the car switches seamlessly to its hybrid system, so there's no need for anxiety about distances.

As a result, Prius Plug-in achieves a new low benchmark in its class for official CO2 emissions, 49 g/km.

Recharging the battery is simple and speedy, using a power point linked to a standard supply, or a street charging point. Prius Plug-in comes with a charging set, including 5m of cabling, stored beneath the boot floor.

Prius Plug-in has LED daytime running lights and headlights; Toyota Touch and Go Plus with touchscreen controls, satellite navigation, voice recognition, rear-view camera and advanced Bluetooth, a DAB digital tuner, eight-speaker JBL sound system, rain-sensing wipers and cruise control.

Leather

Heated front seats, 15-inch alloy wheels with wheel caps and leather steering wheel trim are also included.

Black leather upholstery (£1,500) and rear privacy glass (£270) are available as options, together with a Protection Pack (rear parking sensors and boot liner) and a Style Pack (exterior chrome trim elements), both at £360.

Four exterior colours make up the palette for Prius Plug-in, led by Sky Blue (metallic), a new shade exclusive to the model. Tyrol Silver and Novus Grey metallics and White Pearl Pearlescent are also available.

In the cabin the upholstery is Minowa black fabric with optional Setana black leather.

The on-the-road price for Prius Plug-in is £32,895, but this falls to £27,895 with the benefit of the £5,000 Government grant available on new vehicle purchases, provided through the Office for Low Emission Vehicles (OLEV).

Mini makes history with new open-top

The critically acclaimed Mini family is expanding again.

Hot on the wheels of the Coupé comes the launch of the sixth unique model in the line-up, the eagerly anticipated and all-new Mini Roadster.

Mini continues to rewrite the rule-book: this is the first open-topped two-seater in the company's history. The cutting-edge design is typically Mini – an authentic reinterpretation of a classic motoring concept. This latest model offers the fun of driving a taut-handling roadster, with all the character of MINI. And being built at Plant Oxford means it can justifiably claim to be a spiritual successor to the traditional British roadsters of old.

The semi-automatic operation of the tailored soft-top roof means rapid opening and closing, and it doesn't affect the Mini Roadster's practicality in any way. This is a versatile two-seater with a stowage area behind the driver and passenger seats, a generous 240-litre luggage area and through-loading system.

The Mini Roadster is the first premium model of its kind in the small car segment, offering buyers a unique package that will bring the joy of Mini ownership to a passionate and demanding group of new customers.

The Mini Roadster's generous list of standard equipment includes speed-sensitive steering assistance, electrically adjustable and heated exterior mirrors, rear Park Distance Control, air conditioning and an audio system with MP3-compatible CD player, DAB radio and AUX IN connection. Safety features include front and head-thorax airbags, an extremely rigid windscreen frame and polished stainless steel roll-over bars for outstanding occupant protection.

MINI's extension list of desirable

The new Roadster is the company's first two-seater convertible optional extras means the comfort and individuality of the Roadster can be enhanced in an almost unlimited number of ways. These include a wide range of entertainment, communication and navigation systems, plus Mini Connected with web radio, Google services, RSS news feeds and in-car access to Facebook and Twitter.

Computer

Always popular with Mini customers are the on-board computer, multi-function steering wheel, automatic climate control, heated seats and storage compartment package.

The Mini Roadster is available in two non-metallic and six metallic paint shades. In keeping with British roadster tradition, the roof remains black. Sport stripes, available in three colours for the bonnet, boot lid and rear apron, allow owners to add an extra personal touch.

Alloy wheels of 15, 16 or 17-inch diameter are standard, depending on the model.

As with the recently launched Mini Coupé, all variants of the Mini Roadster carry the Cooper name in their model titles. Full details of standard and optional equipment on each will be released nearer the launch. A wide range of accessories and personalisation

You want to buy a second-hand car.

Just something that's fuel-efficient. But it needs a bit of power – your neighbourhood's quite nilly and your groceries can be so heavy. And it's nice to have an engine that roars.

Swimmers just pipped in race for top berth

HALESOWEN Swimming Club went desperately close to victory in the A final of the Worcester Winter League at Droitwich.

A first and a second place in the closing group of relays left them just three points shy of Stourbridge.

Halesowen finished level with Redditch, but took second place by virtue of having most race wins. The result left Halesowen second overall.

Their B team also made the final, finishing fifth.

Double event winners were Chloe Finch in the butterfly and freestyle and Jacob Darby in the butterfly and breaststroke.

Individual event winners were Jack Simpson and Chloe Robbins in the freestyle, Mark Laing and Lauren Hill in the butterfly and Ruby Fell in the breaststroke.

Standard

The 15-year-old relay team of Imogen Davies, Lillian Parsons, Max Rollason, Joe Coxon and Isobel Breslin won both the medley and freestyle events while Becky Spoor, Hannah Cuthbert, Brian Steatham, Richard Phillips and Zach Collins won the open freestyle relay.

Result: Stourbridge A 184 points, Halesowen A 156, Halesowen B 98.

Halesowen took victory in round one of the Mercian Summer League at Solihull.

With regional standard swimmers not allowed to compete, the league is a good test of strength in depth.

Individual winners were Nicol Green, Talia Mitchell, Emma Parsons, George Davies, Rhys Richards and Ryan Spoor in the breaststroke, Emma Bird, Sam Bradley-Wood and Ryan Davies in the backstroke and Georgia Bird, Lauren Hill and Jack Simpson in the freestyle.

Result: Halesowen 245, Bilston 206, Lichfield 198, Tamworth 148, Wombourne 143, Walsall 101

Junior swimmers got off to a good start in round one of the Nuneaton Junior League, finishing second in home water.

Double winners were Imogen Vaughan-Hawkins in the freestyle and backstroke and Ben Meakin in the freestyle and butterfly.

Individual winners were Katy Morrice in the butterfly, Mark Laing in the freestyle and Jack Simpson in the backstroke.

Result: Northampton 262, Halesowen 222, City of Coventry A 211, Worcester A 165, Braunstone 129 and Haden Hill 65.

Nicolas Hamilton in the spray at a murky Thruxton

Total not in rain control

WEDNESBURY team Total Control Racing endured a difficult sixth round in the AirAsia Renault UK Clio Cup.

Heavy rain and standing water made Sunday's round at Thruxton one of the toughest and most challenging races in championship memory.

Nicolas Hamilton, who started the race from a career-best sixth on the grid after a sensational run in rain-affected qualifying on Saturday, had high hopes of a strong finish, but the 20-year-old was unable to capitalise.

Drivers set off behind the safety car so racing proper did not get under way until lap four. As the cars streamed across the start line and into the first corner, Hamilton spun.

Down in 18th place, the second-year racer pushed on to make up lost ground as the rain persisted and gained two places before a mid-race safety car period was required following a crash into the barriers for TCR team-mate Rob Smith. Hamilton, brother of Formula One star Lewis Hamilton, finished 18th to salvage a few points.

Smith, tackling wet conditions for the first time at the wheel of a Clio, started 19th but moved up three spots.

He was running quite worn rear tyres due to regulations over the number of wet-weather tyres permitted when he spun and crashed heavily.

Team boss Lee Brookes said: "Sunday was a big learning curve for both drivers, it was torrential and there was a lot of standing water out there."

"For Rob, having never driven in the wet before, the conditions were not what you'd want and especially at a track as fast as Thruxton."

Baggies fans have reason to be happy

Albion 0 Villa 0

ALBION couldn't quite deliver the derby victory for which their fans had hoped.

Yet the positive vibe around the stadium spoke volumes for the changing expectations among Albion fans, writes Steve Madeley.

The philosophical way they accepted a huge moment of injustice and an anti-climatic result told the story of a campaign in which their primary mission was completed weeks ago.

The Hawthorns faithful would have lapped up a win to complete a first double over their claret and blue neighbours in almost four decades.

But even in the disappointment of a frustrating goalless draw, it was the home fans who departed into the evening drizzle with satisfied smiles while the visiting fanbase left buoyed by a potentially vital Premier League point but still nervous about what awaits their side in the final fortnight of the campaign.

Suffer

And those contrasting moods were evidence of the regional power-shift that Baggies fans can – genuinely – hope becomes a long-term arrangement.

For the first time in 32 years Albion will end this campaign above Villa. And having already seen Wolves suffer an ignominious year, Baggies diehards are certain to enjoy a pleasant summer. An eventful 90 minutes saw neither side really do enough to warrant maximum points but both were left feeling aggrieved by some potentially pivotal moments of controversy.

Near the end of an evenly-contested opening half, they were given a spot of help when referee Mark Clattenburg failed to see what looked like a handball by skipper Chris Brunt to control Alan Hutton's cross.

Yet if he felt aggrieved, he did not have long to wait for the tables to turn as the officials inexplicably waved away Albion's penalty appeals early in the second half when the full-back thrust out his left-arm on the goalline and pushed Liam Ridgwell's goalbound header over the bar.

A penalty and a red card were denied to Albion, who were left incensed.

The sense of injustice fuelled them and they made the running for much of the half.

Portman's contest with Al Harbi could be saved

WEST BROMWICH'S Marcus Portman was today waiting to see if his chance to take on the undefeated Nasser Al Harbi later this month can be saved.

The light-middleweight 10-rounder has been left in limbo after the Dave Coldwell-promoted bill it had been due to headline was cancelled.

Portman was due to face the hometown fighter at the New Bingley Hill next Friday night but that event will now not take place.

But negotiations are ongoing to save the contest and switch it to Walsall Town Hall on Errol Johnson's show 24 hours after the original date.

With Coldwell and Johnson both happy for the fight to be switched but the final decision is expected to lie with the Al Harbi camp.

Portman was originally due to compete on the Walsall bill before taking the Al Harbi fight, stepping in to replace West Bromwich's Young Mutley.

Mutley – real name Lee Woodley – pulled out through work commitments and Portman's presence meant Al Harbi needed to switch to face a southpaw.

It's Portman's first fight for 12 months and only his fourth in three years but the 31-year-old is a former WBU world champion.

He has also challenged for the British and Commonwealth light middleweight titles and is getting ready for his 31st pro bout.

With that in mind, Portman is looking to take his 22-year-old rival 'to school' if they make it through the ropes.

He said: "I don't see

by Craig Birch

Nasser as a contender, he's more than beatable, so I was happy to take him.

"I see it as getting back into the mix again and to take his undefeated record would be a good win for me.

"I am not going to back off and try to box him at range as he's a bit younger, faster and cuter on the outside.

"I have got to, basically, drag him into the trenches, even if it is unlike me to."

Al Harbi – despite having just one stoppage on his record – has been accepted as a good, tactical boxer.

Portman, himself, has only halted three opponents over his 20 wins but believes he has the superior power.

The older man, as well, the Black Country fighter had already accepted he may have to bide his time during the contest.

He said: "Nasser has got the edge in boxing ability and lateral movement and I am not going to beat him if I start prancing around.

"We both haven't got a lot of knockouts to our name – but I am the stronger man."

All-action contest sees end-of-season success

Tivdale 3 Dunkirk 1

TIVIDALE finished their first Midland Alliance season in fine style as they clinched a fourth-place finish with a hard-fought victory over Dunkirk at the Beeches.

The hosts started brightly and Dunkirk keeper James Mason was called into action to make good saves from Danny Ashton and Kyle Hill within the first two minutes.

The visitors went close in their first attack but Tivdale keeper Tim Beech denied them.

There was plenty of action before Hill won the ball near the corner flag on 20 minutes and crossed for the unmarked Chris Russell to tap home.

But the lead was short-lived as Kelvin Mushumbi slotted the ball past Beech.

The match turned Tivdale's way on 55 minutes when the lively Matt Jukes met a cross from Joel Kettle and headed past the diving Mason.

The visitors thought that they had scored from a quick free-kick, but the referee ruled it out because the ball was moving as the kick was taken.

The hosts wrapped up the win when Hill scored direct from an inswinging corner as keeper Mason misjudged the flight of the ball.

No need for goal-line technology as Kyle Hill scores direct from a corner

Late goal is decisive as Tipton are beaten

Tipton Town 0 Rotherham 1
TIPTON suffered defeat in their final Midland Alliance game of the season in the last minute of normal time.

With their League Cup final looming, they made several changes and started brightly.

But they could not find that little piece of fortune to turn chances into goals.

Shots rained in but few were on target although Max Black hit the bar with a cross-cum-shot in the seventh minute.

Tipton had a number of penalty shouts waved away.

Home keeper Chris Collins saved well after 22 minutes of a scoreless first half.

Rotherham forced a series of corners, but could not breach the home defence.

In the second half, Rotherham had the benefit of a strong wind.

But the match was turning into a typical end-of-season affair with the visitors looking a tired side.

A draw looked on the cards, but a 90th-minute long free-kick assisted by the conditions found Darren Bullock in the right place to rise above Collins and head the winner.

Best-time return for runner Ian

SEVERAL West Bromwich Harriers have set personal bests at three-mile park runs throughout the country.

At Walsall Arboretum Ian Phillips was first home in 20 minutes 36 seconds.

Phillips, recovering from a serious illness, has subsequently taken five seconds off that time.

Others personal bests are: Paul Mansell (40-44 age group) 25.32, John Buckley (70-74) 28.47, Claire Hodgkins (25-29) 29.09, Steve Pitt (40-44) 18.59, Andrew Moseley (45-49) 21.48, Ayaaz Tarajia (35-39) 27.29, James Jefferies (45-49) 20.24, Gary Clifton (45-49) 21.08, Jim Greenwood (35-39) 21.48, Megan Jeavons (50-54) 27.58 and Diane Edge (60-64) 26.41.

Moseley achieved his best time of three hours, 38 minutes, 28 seconds in the Worcester Marathon.

John Buckley was also the first over-70 veteran in the first 5k Fordhouses at Wolverhampton, finishing in 29.40.

Team boss Will Pottinger

Heathens set sights on knockout

Dudley Heathens

DUDLEY team boss Will Pottinger is desperate to see his side make it through to the semi-finals of the National League Knockout Cup.

The former Cradley club go to tackle their great rivals Buxton on Sunday with the return at their adopted Monmore Green home on Tuesday, May 8.

Ambitious Pottinger is keen for his team to challenge for as much silverware as possible in their third season.

He said: "Over the last couple of years there has been quite a rivalry between Buxton and ourselves and I'm sure we'll be taking a good contingent there on Sunday.

"It would be lovely to get past them but we need to keep things close on Sunday before bringing them back to Monmore 'Wood' on Tuesday for the return. We want to be as competitive as possible in every competition and we just want to get some momentum going in our fixture list now.

"We have a team of riders who are desperate for meetings so three in four days will do us just nicely."

Before the cup action, Heathens head to Stoke on Saturday for their re-arranged Staffs Cup clash and they take a handy 47-43 lead from the first leg. They'll be without skipper Adam Roynon for the trip to Loomer Road as he is in action for his Premier League club Workington. Tim Webster, who rode for Stoke last season, has been booked as a guest, and is looking to put himself in the shop window after leaving Buxton last week. Roynon will be back, however, for the two cup clashes with Buxton when Heathens will be at full strength.

Pottinger said: "The riders just want to get back on track and get as many laps as possible, it's been a frustrating start to the season because of the weather.

"When we ride Buxton at home next Tuesday it will be a month since our one and only home team event, that's how frustrating it's been for all."

Yeltz end the season with close home loss

Halesowen Town 0 Taunton Town 1

HALESOWEN ended a season of consolidation in the Evo-Stik Southern Division One South and West with a narrow home defeat by Taunton.

Spencer Blackham bundled the ball home for the Yeltz in the third minute but was ruled offside and a 21st-minute shot from Jean-Michel Gueyes drifted just wide.

But flowing football proved difficult on a tricky playing surface in a game of few chances.

The Peacocks snatched the winning goal after 22 minutes when Raith Plant took advantage of a defensive slip and set up Rodney Marsh to finish.

Marsh then smashed a half-volley just wide for Taunton late in the first half.

At the start of the second period, Halesowen goalkeeper Paul Evans did well to touch Simon Ingram's swirling corner over the bar and then turned away Graham Mercieca's 61st-minute ball across goal.

Home striker Ben Haseley continually found his route to goal blocked and fired at goalkeeper Lee Matthews in the 65th minute.

The visitors then survived a 71st-minute goalmouth scramble with both Marcus Jackson and Nathan Jones going close before a 74th-minute header from Peter Folkes landed on top of Taunton's crossbar.

Evans came to Halesowen's rescue with a fine save to deny Taunton substitute Corey Lewis before Haseley flashed two headers just wide in the final three minutes as the Yeltz pressed.

Halesowen Town: Evans; Westwood, Caines, Folkes, Smith, Gueyes, M Jackson (Saunders 25), N Jackson, Blackham (Jones 70), Haseley, Reid (Huckfield 59). Subs not used: Drake, Flower.

ROY'S READY FOR ALL THE PRESSURE

ENGLAND boss Roy Hodgson insists he will not be caught by surprise by the massive expectation that comes with his new job.

Many pundits have branded being in charge of the Three Lions an impossible task. Hodgson clearly does not think so after signing a four-year contract to replace Fabio Capello.

It is a fair bet the scrutiny will be more intense than he is used to, with only two spells at Inter Milan and that ill-fated stint at Liverpool to compare.

But Hodgson remains calm. And is ready for whatever is thrown at him.

"I realise what I'm going into," he said.

"I'm not naive and have been in football a long while. "We're dealing with enormous expectations."

In addition, Hodgson has to cope with the knowledge that he is not the people's choice.

That honour belonged to Harry Redknapp, who remained overwhelming favourite before the FA confirmed that Albion had granted them permission to speak with Hodgson on Sunday evening.

FA chairman David Bernstein refused to discuss the reasons why Redknapp was ignored, Hodgson knows he cannot escape the comparisons, a situation uncomfortably similar to the one he encountered at Liverpool, where the spectre of Kenny Dalglish hung over him for his six months in charge.

"I'd have to be on another planet not to be aware of the situation," he said.

"But there is one major difference between my time at Liverpool and being offered the job as England manager.

"The people who appointed me at Liverpool didn't have a chance to say

by Steve Madeley

very long and others took over the club.

"The FA had a lot of time to decide which candidate they wanted to do the job, and I'm happy it was me."

Albion are already searching for Hodgson's successor even though England's new head coach will remain in charge for the final two games of the domestic season.

Former Charlton and Baggies boss Alan Curbishley has emerged as an early favourite with the bookmakers to replace Hodgson, who has signed a four-year contract with the Football Association.

Current Birmingham boss Chris Hughton is also believed to be a leading candidate although club chairman Jeremy Peace admits Hodgson will be "a tough act to follow" after a successful 15-month spell.

Peace said: "The board will now concentrate on the important task of appointing a new head coach to continue our project as we prepare for a third successive season in the Barclays Premier League.

"We did not want Roy to leave and he will be a tough act to follow."

Albion boss Roy Hodgson is all smiles as he is unveiled officially as the new coach of the England team
